

Linux

How to get summarized sizes of folders including their subfolders?

Well there are few ways to achieve this, here are two:

```
du -sh /*
```

This will spit out a summary for the whole root of your filesystem or other path if you change it.

```
du -m / | sort -nr
```

This does pretty much the same, but sorts output by filesize.

Unique solution ID: #1151

Author: n/a

Last update: 2013-08-07 17:12